The Chicago Socialists are Indicted.

The Crimes Against Them Range from Murder Down the Catalogue to Unlawful Assembly.

The St. Louis Chair Workers Return to Work—The Strike and Labor News.

INDICTED.

The Leaders of the Chicago Mob Indicted for Murder.

CHICAGO, May 27.—It is understood the indictments signed by the grand jury are as follows: "For murder, Spies, Schwab, Fielden, Fischer, Lingg, and Schnawbel; for assault with intent to kill, Spies, Schwab, Fischer, Lingg, Fielden, Parsons, Engel and Hirschberger; for unlawful assembly, Spies, Schwab, Fielden, Fischer, Lingg, Parsons, Schnawbel, Hirschberger, Engel, and probably Schneider.

HERR MOST.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The trial of Herr Most and his two companions for misdemeanor, was continued to-day. Colonel Fellows made the opening address for the prosecution.

CHAIR WORKERS

Return to Work on the Ten Hour Plan.

St. Louis, May 27.—The striking chair workers have returned to work on the old plan, ten hours, on condition that if business should warrant it on July 15, an advance in wages will be made then.

Indiana Prohibitionists.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—The prohibitionists of Indiana met in state convention yesterday and nominated the following ticket:

Secretary of state—Rev. J. H. Hughes, of Wayne county.

Auditor—Sylvester Johnston, of Marion county.

Treasurer—P. C. Perkins, of St. Joseph county.

Judge of the supreme court—R. D. Wiggins, of Jasper county.

Attorney General—Judge Wm. Land, Gibson county.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—C. W. Hodgin, of Wayne county.

A New Oil Refinery.

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—An independent oil refinery is about to be started at Washington, Pa., by the independent oil producers of the Washington district. The plan contemplates a pipe line through the field as well as the erection of a refinery with a capacity of 500 barrels daily. In the company are James G. Blaine and Stephen B. Elkins.

CLEVELAND, May 27.—The Knights of Labor assembly convention spent three hours discussing the report of the committee on laws recommending an executive board of from five to eleven.

The plan was generally favored, but the report was recommitted without instructions. A committee on legislation was appointed. Adjourned till to-morrow.

A Murderer Hanged.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, May 27.—John C. Henning was hanged at 1:05 p. m. for killing Mrs. Lottie Volmer, of Rockville, Ind., October 24, 1885, because she refused to marry him when he presented himself drunk on the wedding day.

Fire Record.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 27.—The First Methodist Episcopal church was totally destroyed by fire this morning. Loss on building and furniture, $70,000 to $75,000.

FRANKLIN, Mass., May 27.—The fire this morning caused a loss of $75,000; insurance, $50,000.

The Knights of Labor, now in session at Cleveland, appointed a committee of five to consider the plan for a national manufacturers' union proposed by Edwin Norton, one of a firm of Chicago metal workers.

Kekionga council of the national union meets to night in their hall over the postoffice.

THE SCHOONER ADAMS.

What She Looks Like and Where She was Forfeited.

The state of Maine is in arms. From Skowhegan to Lake Umbagog and back again her citizens raise the battle cry. Matawamkeag hears the sound, and shoves it along her troubled waters till it is into the bosom of Chiquassabamook. Meddybemps and Millinocket lash their waves into fury, and hurl the story of the outrage across the hills to Squawpan, thence to Allagash. Sweet Cauquomogomoc refuses to smile responsive to the wooing June air, while merry Moostemaguntic looks as though she had set up in the outrage business permanently on her own hook.

It is on account of the seizure of the fishing schooners in the Bay of Fundy. The most exasperating point about this is that nobody can tell exactly whether it is an outrage or not. When we know we are outraged we have a right to bring our wrath upon, and it is a real comfort, but when we are not quite certain whether we haven't outraged the other party, we howl all the louder with indignation.

The fishing schooners David J. Adams and Ella Doughty have been seized by the Canadian government for buying bait in the Bay of Fundy. On what ground? There is a rusty old document called the treaty of 1818, which the Canucks claim in Yankee seas as their authority. But it is so old that nobody knows much of anything about it. It is so old that Hannibal Hamlin's dress suit was new at the time it was made, and there was yet left one fresh negro minstrel joke. So you see it was a long time ago.

By the provisions of that treaty United States fishermen were bound, then and forever, not to fish in British-American waters on or within three marine miles of the shore of any bay, coast, creek or harbor. They were not to "take, dry or cure" any fish therein or on. They were not even to put in any of the British dominion ports, except for shelter, repair or obtaining wood and water. This seemed stiff enough and plain enough.

SEIZURE OF THE DAVID J. ADAMS.

But it was not. There is the Bay of Fundy. I shoot off and up into British soil just at the point where the state of Maine separates off from New Brunswick. Apparently Fundy does this on purpose to make trouble between England and the United States.

The Bay of Fundy is 50 miles wide and 150 miles long. Get down your old dog-eared and broken-backed school atlases and trace out the Bay of Fundy with your finger and spectacles. Then you will understand what Skowhegan and the town of Gloucester, Mass., are going to tweak the tail of the Canadian lion cub about. Americans claim that they have a right to sail all the way up the Bay of Fundy to its head and fish as they please, anywhere outside of three miles of the coast of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. It is the words "on or within three miles of," contained in the treaty that make the trouble. United States fishermen declare that Fundy, being so large, is in the sense of the treaty no bay at all, but the same as the high seas. Canucks, on the other hand, declare that a bay is a bay, whether it is 7 by 9 feet or 150 by 50 miles in size.

Digby, where the Adams was seized, is a fishing hamlet on the Nova Scotia side of the bay. The Adams was charged with buying bait in Digby harbor contrary to law, therefore was seized and ordered to be confiscated and sold to the highest bidder. The high and mighty Sheriff Van Blaseom, of Nova Scotia, boarded the schooner with the base minions of the law, and said she shouldn't go out of that harbor when she wanted to. To clinch it, he went his own self and tacked a little piece of paper, with four nails and a hammer, to her mast. The paper was put up folded and wrongside out, but it was said to say that Capt. Kinney, of the schooner, had violated the convention of 1818, likewise chapter 38 of the laws passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of George III. As if it wasn't enough of an indignity to a live Yankee to be arrested by a Kanuck, he must be arrested under a law passed in old George the Third's time.

DIGBY.

Digby is not much of a place, as you see. It looks as if the whole town couldn't scrape together fishing worms enough to bait a pin hook for a hellbender. Nevertheless, herding in vast shoals come along there and are caught for bait. It is only fair to the herding, however, to say that they are very young when they take in Digby, or they would know better than to be caught in such a place. Further, it is only fair to Skipper Kinney, of the Adams, to say that he declares he'll be everlastingly blowed and blanketed if he took so much as a solitary minnow from Digby.

The Canadians catch the bait and sell it for $1 a barrel to the Yankee fishermen. They are eager enough to part with it at that figure, and there is plenty of it. They keep it on hand constantly to be disposed of in this very way. Now, why don't the Dominion government punish its own Kanucks for selling the bait, and not its innocent Yankees who buy it?

Numbers among the fishing population of New England avow they will be ruined if the privilege of buying Canadian bait is taken from them. Newspapers all over this country have been howling it into their readers' ears for the last five years that the Canadian fisheries are not worth a brass pin to us. Now they sing suddenly another song.

There have been bad feeling and foolish gabbling on both sides. The talk of war is nonsense. The "two great English speaking peoples" are nearer together in blood and in interest than any other two nations. They must settle this little matter amicably and in a way that will be a credit to both.

"PLINN" WHITE, THE SWINDLER.

Death of the Most Daring Rascal of Our Time.

The news of the death of Plymouth White will bring a feeling of relief to many men who have had business dealings with him, for the reason that "Plinn" had the happy faculty of revisiting a victim with the result of revictimizing them. Some there are who think that this is one of his latest schemes to have his death reported, that he may appear in the flesh to the unwary. If that were the case the publication of his portrait would defeat his game to some extent. Our portrait is made, through the courtesy of a detective, from the one in the celebrated collection of the rogues' gallery, New York. It was placed there scarcely a twelvemonth ago, when he was last in the custody of the police.

PLYMOUTH WHITE.

Plinn White was a Vermont boy, whose teacher predicted his eminence as a thief. In the last twenty-two years he succeeded in fleecing business men, glibly grangers and confiding women out of $1,500,000. At least this was the total of his robberies, made known through the ineffective suits brought against him. The full amount of his swindling operations can never be known, as his victims were often ashamed to acknowledge their losses through dealings with him.

He first achieved a national reputation in 1849, 1850 and 1851, when he netted $400,000 in California gold dust swindles, and escaped to Europe. Between 1851 and 1853 he was arrested four times in New York city, and once, while in jail there, swindled the sheriff out of $20,000. Subsequently, he opened a mammoth dry goods store in Kansas City, Mo., and obtained from eastern dealers goods valued at $275,000, after selling which he disappeared.

A list of his operations would fill a book. They covered the whole country, and every line of business, from poultry raising in Texas to dealing in diamonds in New York. His offices were usually such as to render him liable only to civil suits, and as he squandered money as fast as he obtained it the prosecutor rarely got any satisfaction. He crossed the ocean some sixteen times to escape arrest. He was a splendid conversationalist, and had a frank, open way of talking of his affairs which was wonderfully effective in winning the confidence of those upon whom he operated. It never could be discovered that he drank a drop, gambled, or in fact had any bad habits whatever. He had a way of following up his victims, instead of avoiding them. One instance will illustrate this. Thirty-five years ago Maj. Hall, of New York, advanced $50,000 in checks on White's promise not to have them cashed, but to use them as collateral. The checks were immediately cashed, and although Maj. Hall sought redress in the courts, White's conduct was not liable to the law. White disappeared. After an absence of thirty years White came back to New York in June, 1881. He at once called upon Maj. Hall at his house, told him he had made an immense fortune, was repentant, and came home on purpose to pay back the $50,000 Maj. Hall was then 70 years old, and he was so touched by the eloquence of the prodigal sharper that he wept for joy. After paying several visits, White asked Maj. Hall for $1,800 with which to liquidate a pressing debt, saying that his capital was so bound up temporarily that he could not lay hold of any money. Mrs. Hall had made $10,000 the previous winter keeping a boarding house, and the sum, with $200 more that he borrowed from a customer, was promptly handed over, with the usual result. White would have made a success of any honorable occupation he might have engaged in; but he was absolutely without any moral susceptibilities, and became unquestionably one of the most polished villains on record.

The state superintendent has made the semi-annual apportionment of school revenue for tuition. The total amount of revenue received from the counties is $924,926.47; the amount on hand in the state treasury, including the state's interest on non-negotiable bonds, is $136,954.77, which makes a total for apportionment of $1,061,882.24. The spring enumeration shows 645,016 persons of school age in the state. The per capita of appropriation is, therefore, $1.41.

The Millers' Protective association of northern Indiana, at its meeting in North Manchester, elected the following directors for the ensuing year: D. Thompson, Wabash; Daniel Strons, North Manchester; E. B. Wolf, Colliery; C. W. Tuttle, Columbia City; E. G. Thomas, Huntington. Applications for membership are coming in from all portions of this section of the state. Another meeting will be held in North Manchester on June 22.

Mary Allen, John Achibold and Mra. Achibold have been granted a change of venue from the Wells to the Allen circuit court.

DROOPS!

Gladstone Modifies His Home Rule Bill.

The Clause Excluding Irish Members From Westminster is the Point to Weaken.

It is Believed Now the Bill Will Pass a Second Reading for Reference.

GLADSTONE

Will Modify the Clause in the Bill Excluding Irish Representatives.

LONDON, May 27.—At the general liberal meeting called by Gladstone at the foreign office this afternoon, Gladstone announced that the government had decided to modify the clause of the home rule bill excluding Irish representatives from Westminster, provided the bill passed its second reading and was referred to a select committee for action during the autumn session of parliament. The meeting cordially approved the position taken by Gladstone.

The liberal dissidents who did not care to attend Gladstone's meeting, have hailed with undisguised satisfaction the attitude of apparent conciliation adopted by the premier. They now openly proclaim their intention to return to their party allegiance and vote with the government for a second reading. The general opinion this afternoon is that the home rule bill will now certainly pass a second reading.

Rev. Mr. Spurgeon published an attack on Gladstone's home rule bill.

Gen. Reub Williams, of the Warsaw Times, joins the Indianapolis Times in entering an earnest and emphatic protest against the renomination of James G. Blaine for the presidency.

Mrs. James Williams, daughter-in-law of Hon. William Williams, will leave Washington for Wabash, Ind., on the 15th prox., where she will make her home in the future with Rev. M. Little, pastor of the Presbyterian church at that place.

Rufus Magee, minister to Norway and Sweden, has received two months' absence, and with his two daughters will make a trip of the continent. The death of Mrs. Magee has wrecked all his plans, and may result in his return to America.

State Auditor Rice has refused to issue a warrant for the payment of the $10,000 old internal improvement bonds, which Henry King's sons, bankers of New York, have recently sent here for payment, and suit to enforce the payment will probably follow.

The celery crop of Kalamazoo will be larger this year than ever before. Last season about 1,200 acres were planted and most of the celery was marketed in Indiana. This year the area planted will exceed 1,600 acres. It is estimated by those in the business that the sales of celery brought to Kalamazoo, last year, over $400,000.

Thus far this spring over 170 lives have been lost by tornadoes and cloud bursts in the west, and several millions of property destroyed. Within the past two weeks eight deaths have been reported by lightning in various parts of this country. The work of death and destruction from the same causes has, in the meantime, been almost as great in different parts of Europe.

ECHOES OF NEW YORK.

Something About the Authors' Club and Its Members.

(Special Correspondence.)

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Authors' club, the sole organization of the kind in America, is, contrary to general expectation, quite flourishing. It began in November, 1882, with fifty members, and now has nearly 150, which is fixed as its limit. The chief difficulty of such an association is to make it self-sustaining and at the same time to keep its financial burdens light enough for the inky tribe, naturally possessed of small means, to bear them without discomfort. At the outset, the initiation fee was $15, the annual dues were $10. These were found insufficient, and they have respectively been increased to $25 and $15, which seem to answer the purpose. The club has a floor in a house in Twenty-fourth street, west of Fifth avenue, where it holds fortnightly meetings—they are mainly for social communion—every other Thursday night. A plain collation is served, with punch, tobacco and pipes, and over the e with plenty of conversation, reminiscence and anecdote, the members pass the evenings very pleasantly.

The title of the club, which may appear somewhat pretentious, was chosen so as to distinguish between journalists simply, and men who are literary. One of the articles of the constitution reads: "No person shall be eligible to membership who is not the author of a published book proper to literature, or who has not a recognized position in other kinds of distinctly literary work." Although the members are more or less connected with newspapers, not one of them is exclusively a writer for the press. Nearly every man of literary reputation in the city belongs to the club and many authors in other parts of the country. Among the best known names are those of Henry James, William D. Howells, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Samuel L. Clemens, George William Curtis, Edward Eggleston, Parke Godwin, R. Watson Gilder, Julia Hawthorne, Bronson Howard, George Parsons Lathrop, Edmund Clarence Stedman, Richard Henry Stoddard, Charles Dudley Warner and Edward L. Youmans. The only three honorary members are a Matthew Arnold, James Russell Lowell and John G. Whittier. The club has neither a president nor vice-president. Its government is vested in an executive council of nine members, who elect from their own number a secretary and treasurer, and also appoint the committee on membership. Candidates are considered in regard to their character as well as to their professional eligibility. Naturally there has been much discussion and considerable disagreement about various literary authors whose names have been put up, and not a few have been rejected on personal grounds alone. Still the club has, on the whole, been harmonious, far more so than would have been anticipated, when the sensitiveness, prejudice and self-love of writers are taken into account.

Many of the members are young men who have lately blossomed into reputation, like T. A. Janvier (Ivory Black), Frederick J. Stempson, George Edgar Montgomery, Brande Matthews, W. Hamilton Gibson, Harry Harland (Sidney Lussan), Arlo Bates and others. There are veterans, too, almost forgotten, like William S. Mayo, in his 74th year. His "Kaloolah" and "The Barber," romances of adventure, were widely read and admired thirty or forty years ago. Thomas Dunn English is also a member. Little has been heard of him lately, but he was quite prominent in the first half of the century. He is the author of a once popular ballad, "Ben Bolt," and of divers novels, plays etc. Poe attacked him in his volume of "The Literati," where he spoke of him as Thomas Dunn Brown. He is now near 67, but bustling and brimming with himself.

Charles D. Conway, now permanently settled here, after more than twenty years' residence in England, finds prices in the United States, notably in this city, exceedingly high. While he admits that a man can earn more here than there, he still thinks the difference wholly in favor of London. He holds that one can live there "for less than two-thirds of what it costs here." Consequently, it is a better place of residence for a writer whose manuscripts are in demand. Americans who are temporarily in London find it very dear; but permanent residents get on with far more economy. New York is undeniably the most expensive of capitals on either side of the sea.

Albert M. Palmer, of the Madison Square, is one of the very few managers who make no contract with players. He says that it is useless, for they hardly ever keep their part of the contract, while they invariably hold the manager most rigorously to his part. He simply tells them what he will do, and they accept without reluctance his word as a man of integrity and means. This plan saves him a deal of vexation and trouble, and, in fact, works well all around. It is now very doubtful, I understand, whether Edwin Booth will attempt to fulfill his contract next season with Lawrence Barrett. He has been so weak and ill this season that he does not think he can possibly gain sufficient strength and health between this and the coming autumn to perform so long an engagement as 300 nights. As is called for. His friends have urged him against the endeavor, which will certainly end in breaking him completely down before its termination. His recent acclamations with Salvini have shown conclusively that he needs a very long rest. It is not unlikely that he may retire permanently from the stage.

At a recent reception up town three gentlemen were present who, many years ago, were the Columbus O. correspondents of The Cincinnati Gazette, and they had succeeded one another in that capacity. They were William D. Howells, William Henry Smith, agent of the Associated Press, and Whitelaw Reid, who are near the same age, about 50, and who have ever since that time been close friends. Howells is at present earning more money with his pen than any American writer. From all sources he has an income of from $18,000 to $20,000, which is fully four times what the clerical of our literatures can usually command. How long this will continue no one can say. He has enjoyed this exceptional fortune only a few months.

North Manchester will have races July 2nd and 3rd. The business men there are all of enterprise.

Several Inches of Snow in Vermont—The Maxwell Trial To-day.

SETTLED AT LAST.

President Cleveland to Be Married at Folsomdale.

BUFFALO, May 27.—The Times to-day prints a statement to the effect that Mr. Wilson Bissell says he has arranged for special train to bring Mr. Cleveland to Buffalo, to be married, but that the wedding ceremony will take place at Folsomdale, which is one of the most isolated spots in Western New York.

MAXWELL

Is Again on the Witness Stand To-day.

St. Louis, Mo., May 27.—Mr. Fontenot continued his direct examination of Maxwell. The witness admitted having met McCullough, but never made any arrangements with him about the manner in which the defense should be conducted. His whole statement, said the witness, was an infamous lie from beginning to end. "I never saw a letter signed 'Mann,' which he says he wrote to me, until it was produced in court. I never tried to secure false witness nor manufacture a bogus defense.

A Big Snow Fall in Vermont.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 27.—Snow to the depth of several inches is reported in various towns in northern Vermont, and fears are entertained of severe damage to crops by the frost.

House Proceedings To-day.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In the house Mr. Dingley, from the committee on conference, submitted a report from the joint committee on the shipping bill. Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, thought that the consideration should be postponed until the members had an opportunity to examine the provisions carefully. The question involved in the Frye amendment was broader than at first blush it might appear to be. It not only conferred the privilege, but imposed the duty upon the president to withdraw from foreign vessels certain commercial privileges when those privileges had been denied to American vessels in the country to which such foreign vessels belonged. The supposed need for the provision rose out of the recent troubles with Canada. There was no danger of war and the executive has under consideration a settlement of the Canadian fishery trouble. The objection to the provision was that it enabled the president to place an embargo upon Canadian vessels.

In the committee of the whole on the oleomargarine bill, voted down the amendment reducing the special tax imposed on manufacturers of oleomargarine from $600 to $800 by a vote of 44 to 119.

A FAIR TRIAL IN TERRE HAUTE.

The nineteenth century is said to be the age of skepticism, and so perhaps it is as regards religion, but its practical spirit inclines it to look favorably on everything that promises immediate benefit and it is always ready to give everything that seems useful a fair trial. The West especially has ever been open and cordial to all new ideas, and this may partly explain why Athlophoros, the sovereign remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia, has secured such a strong footing in Terre Haute. A well-known citizen who has the most implicit faith in it is Mr. R. Forster, the furniture dealer at No. 320 Main street. Mr. Forster, when recently asked at his warerooms as to the benefit he had derived from Athlophoros, answered as follows:

"Yes, I have used Athlophoros with the very best satisfaction. I have had neuralgia for many years, and could not find any medicine that would give me relief until I commenced using Athlophoros, and I can tell you I had used about everything."

"How did you first get confidence enough in Athlophoros to try it?"

"Well, it was just in this way. I was suffering very much at the time from my neuralgia. One Saturday evening Mr. Mallette, a manufacturer of wire mattresses, who is in business in Chicago, and lives at Elgin, Ill., came down to spend Sunday with me. Finding me suffering as I was he said:

"Get some Athlophoros. It is good, my wife used it and was cured of her neuralgia by it."

"Without waiting for me to say much about it he went out and bought a bottle of the medicine. I took some that night and the next day I was free from pain as if I had never had neuralgia. I spent several hours in a walk that Sunday with Mr. Mallette, which the day before would have been misery for me. During the summer months I am never troubled with neuralgia, but if I should be again I would certainly use Athlophoros, for I am fully convinced of its merits."

"I have recommended Athlophoros to several persons and have yet to learn of an instance where it did not accomplish its mission. Among others I recommended it to Mrs. Richards, who lives in Casey, Ill. I saw her in the city a few days ago and asked her if she had used it. She said that she had taken two bottles. It was helping her, and she said that she was going to get some more."

Mrs. C. A. Armstrong, of No. 123 South Second street, is another resident of Terre Haute, Ind., whom Athlophoros has cured. "I used it for neuralgia," she says, "and it cured me. I had been troubled for about three years with what seemed at times neuralgia, and then again rheumatism. I was never free from pain. The very first dose of Athlophoros I took gave me relief, and after using only two bottles my soreness is all gone and I am feeling much stronger. My daughter was also cured of neuralgia by it."

"Yes, I can say Athlophoros did everything for me," is the daughter's statement. "I was so sick with neuralgia that I could not sit up and suffer the greatest pain. Mother gave me a half bottle of Athlophoros, the first few doses of which gave me relief. All I used was the half bottle and I have not had any neuralgia since."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, for he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York.

33,000 ACRES MINNE-OTA

Lands are to be sold at Public Auction. The Trustee of the Estate of Jay Cooke & Co., in Bankruptcy, will offer for sale to the highest bidder, 33,000 acres of valuable lands yet remaining. The real estate must be disposed of immediately so as to settle with creditors. Such an opportunity is rarely offered for a sale and paying investment. Sale takes place at the Chicago Real Estate Board, Room 5, Lexington St., Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, May 26, at 12 noon. Each tract sold separately. Address W. J. Barney & Co., 27 Tribune Building, Chicago, Ill., or to James O. Young, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

There are a few Druggists who dare more to make a large profit on a worthless article than to wait for the property that ultimately results from honest dealing. These are the men who when asked for a Benson's Capoline Plaster, will recommend some cheap and trashy substitute or imitation, saying it is "just as good." Sometimes they will do up and sell the miserable imitation without remorse, knowing full well that it is not Benson's. If the valueless plaster is returned, Cheap John will say he made a mistake; if not, he has done a good stroke of business. The public are cautioned against John and all his ilk. Buy of respectable druggists only. The genuine Benson's plaster has the "Red Seal" trade mark and the word "Capoline" cut in the center.

REPORT OF CITY CIVIL ENGINEER.

In the matter of the petition of Christian Grafmiller, surviving partner of McKee & Grafmiller, asking an additional estimate for the construction of a sidewalk on the north side of Lewis street, which was referred to the city attorney and city civil engineer at the last meeting of the council, would respectfully ask to be relieved from any further report on said sidewalk, as the final estimate included all that I have to report in the matter. It is my opinion that the sidewalk is in good condition, and therefore I would recommend that the petition be referred to the committee on judiciary.

REPORT OF CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

I herewith respectfully report that I have appointed John McGowan and Fred Becker assistant engineers of the fire department and ask your honorable body to confirm my appointment.

HENRY HILBRECHT, Chief of Fire Dept.

Report concurred in and appointment confirmed.

REPORT OF STREET COMMISSIONER.

1. In the matter of the resolution of Councilman Read instructing me to give ten days notice to the owner of the sixty feet east of west forty feet, north 100 feet, lot 388, Hanna's addition, to repair his sidewalk would respectfully report that I have served said notice but the owner has failed to comply with said notice.

2. In the matter of the resolution of Councilman Doehman instructing me to give ten days notice to the owner of lot 7, George's addition, to repair his sidewalk, would report that I have served said notice, but the owner has not complied with said notice.

3. I would recommend that the sand pits be cleaned as soon as possible, for most of them are filled up.

DENNIS O'BRIEN, Street Commissioner.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Your committee, to whom was referred the treasurer's and clerk's reports, have examined them and find same to agree with their record. We have also examined report of the treasurer and poundmaster, and find same correct.

J. STORM, GEO. W. ELY, D. MONAHAN, Com.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SEWERS.

1. We have awarded the contract to J. Derheimer for constructing a 24-inch sewer on Warsaw street from Lasselle to DeWald street.

2. We have awarded the contract to J. Derheimer for constructing an 18-inch sewer in the alley between Warsaw street and Virginia street, from Clay street to Monroe street.

3. In favor of the ordinance for a 15-inch sewer in the alley between Buchanan street and Lasselle street, from Warsaw street to the alley west of Hanna street.

4. In favor of the ordinance for a 15-inch sewer in the alley between Buchanan street and Lasselle street, from Warsaw street to the west line of lot 16, Lasselle's addition.

5. In favor of the ordinance for an 18-inch sewer in the alley between Buchanan street and St. Martin street, from Warsaw street to Lafayette street.

6. In favor of the ordinance for an 18-inch sewer in the alley between Buchanan street and St. Martin street, from Warsaw street to Hanna street.

7. In favor of the ordinance for a 15-inch sewer in the first alley east of Lafayette street, from the alley between Buchanan street and St. Martin street to the north line of Creighton avenue.

8. In favor of ordinance for a 15-inch sewer in the alley north of the Monroe road, from University street to a point thirty feet west of Schick street.

9. In favor of the ordinance for the construction of a 15-inch sewer in the alley between Bass street and Cluerick street from Hoagland avenue to Fairfield avenue and in favor of the ordinance for said sewer.

10. In the matter of the petition of property owners for a sewer on Schick street, your committee would ask further time.

11. In the matter of the petition of P. H. Hyman and others for a sewer on Clinton street from Hamilton street to DeWald street, your committee report in favor of constructing said sewer.

12. In the matter of the report of the street commissioner asking that a clay pipe sewer be constructed on Chicago street from Broadway to Jackson street, also a clay pipe sewer in the lot west of Oakley street, we report adverse to both sewers.

JAMES WOLFE, A. KACINE, LEVI GRIFFITH, Com.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON WATER WORKS.

We respectfully report that we have examined the report of the trustees of the water works for the month of April, 1886, and find the same to be correct.

GEO. W. ELY, Com.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FIRE.

Your committee on fire respectfully report that we have awarded the contract for furnishing the city with 1,000 feet of cotton hose to the American Fire Hose Manufacturing company.

P. J. SCHIED, Com.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON GAS AND STREET LIGHTS.

We, your committee on street lights, report adverse to resolution of Councilman Kramer for a light to be placed at the corner of Jefferson and Monroe streets.

H. A. READ, A. KACINE, W. DOEHMAN, Com.

CONCURRED IN.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS.

We, your committee on public grounds and buildings, to whom was referred the bills of Charles Buttenbender, the Peters Box and Lumber company and Wilson McQuiston, have examined the same and find the same correct, therefore we recommend the payment of same.

CHAS. F. HARKER, LEVI GRIFFITH, Com.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MARKETS.

Your committee on markets have visited the market building and find it in need of some repairs.

The brick floor is sunken and dilapidated in places; the south door is worn out and the frame is loose from the wall; the north end is filled with old lamps formerly used by the gas company; many very heavy chairs are piled up against the wall; the corner pillar is rotten at the bottom and unsafe.

We would therefore recommend that the floor be raised and the old floor be replaced by a new one, the frame fastened to the wall, a board partition be built across the recess that contains the lamps and the old benches made over into new benches made where needed to accommodate renters of stalls.

A. H. BUTTENBENDER, Com.

Referred to the committee on markets and street commissioner with power to act, providing the cost does not exceed $25.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STREETS AND ALLEYS.

1. We recommend the contract of Peter Herber to grade and pave the sidewalks on DeWald street.

2. Also the contract of Joe Derheimer to grade and pave the sidewalks on the south side of Washington street.

3. Also the contract of George Ehrman to grade and pave the sidewalks on Fourth street.

4. Also the contract of John Bertels to grade and pave the sidewalks on North Cass street.

5. Also the contract of C. Grafmiller to grade and pave the sidewalks on Ewing street.

6. Also the contract of Anselm Kraus to grade and pave the sidewalks on the north side of Washington street.

7. Also the contract of William Moellering to grade and pave the sidewalks on Lewis street to Holman street.

8. Also the contract of John Bertels to grade and pave the sidewalks on Williams street.

9. Also the contract of John McMahon to grade and pave the sidewalks on Fairfield avenue.

10. Also the contract of John Bertels to grade and pave the sidewalks on Murray street.

11. Also the contract of John Bertels to grade and pave the sidewalks on Gay street.

12. Also the contract of John McMahon to grade and pave the sidewalks on Thomas street.

13. Also the contract of John McMahon to grade and pave the sidewalks on Erie street.

14. Also the contract of John McMahon to grade and pave the sidewalks on Barthold street.

15. Also the contract of John McMahon to grade and pave the sidewalks on Fairfield avenue.

16. Also the contract of C. Grafmiller to grade and pave the sidewalks on Douglass avenue.

17. In reference to section 4 of the street commissioner's report, we recommend that so much of the gutters on West Columbia street which the stagnant water stands be taken up and relaid.

18. In favor of resolution of Councilman Doehman to grade and pave with bricks the sidewalks on the west side of Hanna street.

19. In relation to the resolution of Councilman Storm for widening College street, having said street in front of said M. E. college would be of no benefit to the public at large and a damage to said college grounds. We, therefore, recommend that the same be rescinded.

20. In reference to the petition of Rhesa Swinney, asking to be allowed to put up gates in the alley added and we report, we report, said alley belongs to the public and this council has no power to grant any such privilege.

21. Adverse to the resolution of Councilman Scheid to grade and pave DeWald street.

22. Adverse to the petition of Fred Schultz to pave with cobble stone Hanna street.

23. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave with brick the south side of High street.

24. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave with brick the sidewalk on Archer avenue from Wells to Meridian street.

25. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and macadamize North Cass street from Wells street to First street, a width of twenty feet and a depth of twelve inches, instead of graveling as per resolution.

26. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and macadamize North Cass street from Wells street to First street, a width of twenty feet and a depth of twelve inches, instead of graveling as per resolution.

27. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave with brick the sidewalk bordering on lot No. 64 Northside addition.

28. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave with brick the sidewalk on the east side of Wells street from North Cass street to the track of the Lake Shore road.

29. In favor of resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave with brick the sidewalk on the east side of Wells street from the track of the Lake Shore road to a point opposite the southwest corner of Frank Hake's brick building.

30. Adverse to the resolution of Councilman Racine to grade and pave the east side of North Cass street from St. Mary river bridge to the Lake Shore road.

31. In reference to the petition of S. C. Henderson and others asking to have their alley graveled between Wayne and Washington street, from Clay to Monroe street, we report in favor of petitioners.

32. In relation to the resolution of Councilman Scheid asking to have the alley opened and widened to a width of 15 feet, between Hanna and Force streets, from the south line of Moran's addition to the alley between the north half of Hanna's outlot No. 24, we report in favor of same and recommend the proper resolution to be passed.

33. We also recommend that the appointment of Frank Webber as supervisor for the ensuing year be confirmed by this council.

34. We have also examined the annual report of the street commissioner and find the same correct, and the street committee extend their thanks to Mr. O'Brien for the good showing of his report.

35. We have also bought a new Fleming road scraper, subject to the approval of this council. There are three road scrapers at work now, and we think, in our opinion, that work done with scrapers in various parts of the city is giving general satisfaction. We therefore recommend that the same be purchased and used on all streets in the city except on cedar block and macadamized streets. This will save the street department some money. They can be used on graveling and in better condition as heretofore, and don't need the force of men as we had, and the work will be done quicker and more uniform through the city.

36. We would further recommend that Berry street, from Calhoun to Broadway, be refilled with broken stone to a depth of six feet.

Also, West Wayne street, from Harrison street to College street, be graded and paved with cedar blocks from curbstone to curbstone, and the curbstone set further out into the street so to make the street a 36-foot street. This would make quite an improvement and less expense to the city.

Section 34 concurred in and bill allowed.

Section 37, that part relating to the refilling with cobble stone, Berry street from Calhoun street to Broadway, be referred to the councilmen of the Third and Fourth wards.

That part relating to the paving with cedar blocks, Wayne street, from Harrison street to the alley between Wayne and Washington street, be referred to the councilmen of the Third and Fourth wards.

That part relating to the paving or macadamizing of the alley between Wayne and Washington street, from Clay to Monroe street, be referred to the councilmen of the Second ward.

Athlophoros has given entire satisfaction in every case of neuralgia when I have recommended it. I have used it myself and it surpasses any preparation I have used in twenty-five years. It gives a general satisfaction. J. M. Wright, drug list, Chester, Illinois.

There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

Dan Willis and his wife, very estimable people at Lebanon, were poisoned by eating wild pursnip roots, which they had gathered in the woods, thinking it was spikenard. He died in terrible agony in less than an hour. His wife is in a critical condition.

Is Your Liver out of Order?

Then your whole system deranged—the blood is impure, the breath offensive, you have a headache, feel languid, dispirited and nervous, have no appetite, your sleep is troubled and unrefreshing. To prevent a more serious condition, take at once a half tablespoonful of Simmons' Liver Regulator, three times a day—it will soon restore the healthy action of the liver, bowels and kidneys.

"I recommend Simmons' Liver Regulator to all my friends, as I have personally known it to cure all liver disorders and sick headache."

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1886.

THE CITY.

Dr. C. B. Stemen has returned from Chicago.

Julius Nathan went to Toledo this morning.

Mr. I. Alringer has opened his grocery at Antwerp.

Most of the Chicago excursionists returned home to-day.

Professor Bristol's horse show is great and continues all week.

Mrs. Chas. Buck returned last night from a visit at Plymouth, Ind.

Trs. Sarah Smith, of South Toledo, Ohio, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buck.

The weather indications for Indiana are generally fair weather, stationary temperature.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly are now in their pleasant home at No. 181 East Jefferson street.

An emigrant train of eight cars passed through the city this morning on the Pittsburgh road.

Harry Rogers, an engineer on the Pittsburgh road, is the happy father of a bouncing boy baby.

Andy Kalbacher's father, who had his hip bone broken some days ago, is rapidly improving.

Dr. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. John Ross took their brother, Clifton Ross, of Lebanon, Ohio, to Rome City.

Alex Martin, the grocer, has a cablegram saying his father and mother are seeing the sights of Paris.

The pupils of the Sisters' and Brothers' schools will give closing exhibitions at the Catholic Library hall.

Mr. W. H. H. Miller, a prominent Indianapolis attorney, who used to live here, is a guest of the Avenue house.

One thousand three hundred and eighty-six water permits have been issued till date by the water works office.

Mr. Will Kyle is celebrating the anniversary of his birth to-day, and one of the most agreeable remembrances is a fragrant basket of flowers.

LaOtto correspondent says "Miss Etta Licoff, of Fort Wayne, was in this vicinity three or four days last week, visiting her cousin, Miss Annie Sowers."

"Mr. Frank Falker, a popular knight of the grip, was in the city yesterday. Frank is an ex-city marshal of Fort Wayne and quite a politician in that city," says the Lafayette Journal.

Walter J. Mitchell and Louise Guttermuth, Jacob Giant and Mary E. Girardot, Reinhard Sutterlin and Margaretta Steiger, Willard F. Parker and Florence C. Cook, have been licensed to wed.

The excursion of the Order of Locomotive Firemen to Warsaw, was very well attended. They had five coaches and a baggage car loaded down with pleasure seekers and their lunch baskets.

The Fort Wayne Rifles had a very enjoyable time at Rome City yesterday. The target shooting developed remarkable marksmanship and pretty girls smiled their sweetest on the boys in uniform.

Warren Carpenter, the chief engineer at the water works pumping house, used to be a republican, but is now a democrat. Mr. Carpenter used to run an engine on the Wabash road and he is a brother-in-law of Mr. Christ Boserke.

Miss M. E. Pinkerton, who labors as a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions among the Zulus of southeastern Africa, will give an account of her work at the Congregational church next Sabbath evening.

Mr. Jacob Giant and Miss Mary Girardot were married in the county clerk's office this morning. Tom Gorman and Joe Black did the honors. After the ceremony they kissed the willing lips of the bride and pressed the bridal roses as the groom grew pale with envy.

This has been a big jury week in the circuit court and Bailiff William Fahling has not had a night's rest since Monday. He can sleep against a court pillar and this morning took a nap while Harry Metzgar poured one of his tales of conquests in love into William's ear, then dead to chivalric heroes.

Building permits have been granted to Chas. Hiller, to erect an addition to his frame house on lot 43, Hanna's addition, to cost $150; to Nelson Thompson, to build a wood shed on lot 11, Comparet's addition, to cost $30, and to Ferdinand Lohaefer to build a frame addition to his house on lot 73, Rockhill's second addition, to cost $125.

It is said that there is a big scheme on foot by English capitalists and others in this country, by which a short line road between Chicago and New York will be constructed and that the road will be run in connection with a new line of steamers between Baltimore and Liverpool. The system is to be known as the Midland railway, and the capital stock to be $100,000,000. Fort Wayne is on the line of the road.

Mrs. Joseph J. Jenkinson is the guest of relatives at Goshen.

The city hall and offices are undergoing the annual renovation.

Hon. R. C. Bell is at Indianapolis and will return to-morrow evening.

Mr. Harry Bromley, general agent of the Lake Shore railroad, is in the city.

Mrs. Fred Meyers, of St. Joe township, is prostrated from a stroke of paralysis.

The republicans are selecting delegates. The task is like picking out pall bearers.

Professor Bristol's horse show continues to attract and amuse people at the Temple.

The superior court jury has been dismissed until June 2. Judge Hensch held no court to-day.

THE SENTINEL and Gazette were the only papers to publish Mayor Muhler's address in full.

Miss Julia Ruggles, of Euclid, O., is visiting with her friend, Miss Lizzie Chapin, of Douglas avenue.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana excursion rates to the northern summer resorts will go into effect June 1.

Professor Kinsey, a former Fort Wayne musician, is to give a musical normal at Columbia City, July 13.

W. A. Corey, a bright young man from Aboit township, has accepted a clerical position with S. F. Swayne.

Mr. George R. Wendling, the famous lecturer, will be engaged to come here and lecture in the interest of the Y. M. C. A.

"James Sheridan, one of Fort Wayne's 'finest' policemen, is in the city on his wedding tour," says the Lafayette Courier.

It is proposed to give Manager Wilkison, of the Academy, a benefit and as he is a clever, genial gentleman it will be a pleasure to promote the movement.

Drs. W. H. and H. S. Meyers yesterday amputated, at the ankle joint, the right leg of Ed. Kasack, the tramp, who had his limb bruised by a Pittsburgh train.

Quite a number of Fort Wayne people are arranging to attend the G. A. R. musical festival at Indianapolis the first week in June. The proceeds are to go towards erecting a state soldiers' monument.

The funeral of the late Wm. Chamberlain occurred this afternoon and was very largely attended. The casket was laden with tender floral tributes and the services were impressive under the auspices of the Odd Fellows.

Col. D. N. Foster, of this city, is nominated for national commander of the United States by the National Union Republican. Mr. Foster could fill the place with honor to himself and the soldiers of the nation and THE SENTINEL is pleased to say so.

The Catholic Knights will not participate in the public parade on Decoration Day. Their name was used without their knowledge or consent. The Knights will celebrate the day becomingly, but will not participate in its public observance.

Albert Dawson, of Fort Wayne, is at Huntington on business for the Nickel Plate company. He is engaged in preparing a map of the old Wabash and Erie canal and ascertaining who the property owners are whose land borders on its once wild and stormy waters.

Mr. C. S. Knight, manager of the Fort Wayne Gas company, is negotiating for the necessary paraphernalia and drills to bore for oil and gas in this city. Mr. Knight and his company propose to have natural gas if there is any in the earth beneath Fort Wayne or the territory about it.

Thomas Bradberry, the brute who insulted his own daughter by his revolting acts, had a trial before Justice Ryan to-day. The little girl told the story of her father's inhumanity between sobs, and the judge bound the fellow over to the criminal court in the sum of $1,000. Of course the fellow went to jail.

Pat Duffly, an old Irishman who wears a perpetual black eye, was arraigned before the mayor for stealing chickens from Pete Cisler and Henry Schuckman. He is also a notorious flower thief, and his racket was to sell the posies at the Oliver house and saloons about town. Mayor Muhler bound him over to await grand jury action in the sum of $50.

A pleasant surprise was again in store for the large audience which again assembled at the Academy last night. A great deal had been said about "Little Nugget" in advance, and of course a great deal was expected, but they were not prepared for such a whirlwind of fun. "Little Nugget" is one of the funniest shows that has ever been seen in Fort Wayne. It is superior to "A Tin Soldier" and other nonsensicalities of that order, and the people presenting it are especially good, particularly sprightly Josie Sisson as "Little Nugget," Oscar Sisson as "Billy Simpkins," Droll Herbert Cawthorn as "O'Brady," and Joe Cawthorn as "Jakey Kumpfer," the pugilistic German. "Little Nugget" will continue the balance of the week with another matinee Saturday afternoon.

"Little Nugget" again to-night.

Joe M. Gaston, of Paulding, Ohio, is in the city.

Cherries are now plentiful in the local fruit markets.

Christina Shumacher was divorced to-day from Adam Shumacher.

The county commissioners have adjourned until next Tuesday.

Miss Esther McKinnie and Mrs. Elsworth are visiting at Chicago.

If you are a property owner, read the council proceedings each day.

A large house witnessed "Little Nugget" at the Academy again last night.

Warsaw knows by this time what it is to have an excursion. The firemen had a pretty gay party.

The remains of August Heineck, a cigar maker for Mr. Christ Wenninghoff, were sent to Indianapolis for burial to-day.

Those who will contribute flowers for Decoration Day are requested to leave them at Sion S. Bass Grand Army hall on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John McQuiston, of this city, and Mrs. W. H. McQuiston, of Auburn, went to Central Ohio, this morning for a three weeks' visit.

The Odd Fellows presented an imposing appearance at the funeral of the late Wm. Chamberlain to-day. The city band headed the funeral cortege.

Mr. J. W. Ryan, wife and son George, left yesterday noon for Buffalo, N. Y., via the Nickel Plate. Mr. Ryan will extend his visit for more than a week.

The Clay Club give their grand annual banquet to-morrow night. The demonstration will take place at the Grand Central Hotel, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"A. J. Markey has a half interest in a receipt for making a better ink than Arnold's. His brother-in-law, of Fort Wayne, is the discoverer," says the Albion Democrat.

"Mr. J. M. Barrett, of Fort Wayne, was one of the counsel in the Hatfield-Taylor suit here last Monday. His gentlemanly bearing before the jury made him many friends," says the Bluffton Banner.

The jury in the case of G. W. Seavey vs. Allen H. Dougal and others disagreed in the circuit court. Mr. Seavey sought to recover a debt contracted by the men who conducted the reunion in this city last fall.

The following docket was disposed of by Judge O'Rourke to-day: John McKee vs. Andrew J. Taylor, judgment to former for $6,419.47 on foreclosure. The case of Emma Davis vs. Jacob Fredrickson et al. is on trial.

Representative democrats from Huntington came here to-day to consult Chairman John Wilkinson about holding a joint convention to nominate a joint representative for Allen and Huntington counties. The delegates will be chosen when the state delegates are.

The statement that Prof. D. D. Luke, of Ligonier, is a candidate for superintendent of public instruction is without authority. The professor presided over the Auburn convention and has no such aspirations as a state office, at least Hon. John B. Stoll says so.

A poor man went to Baron Von Westrum's house this morning to strive to collect wages due him from the baron. He talked hard to Westrum for refusing to pay him and for this the laborer was arrested, fined for provoke and cast in jail because he could not pay the blood money. That sort of justice is rank mockery.

"Mr. Wm. Golden, who has been a citizen of this county, but now resides with his daughter, Mrs. Abram Keller, in Fort Wayne, was on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Martha Miller, and other relatives in the city. He returned to Fort Wayne last Saturday," says the Bluffton Banner.

"Bishop Joseph Rademacher, of Nashville, Tenn., was in the city yesterday and to-day, en route from Fort Wayne, where he had been to administer confirmation to a large class and also to lay the corner stone of a new Catholic church at that place. He is as happy looking as of yore and several years younger," says the Lafayette Courier.

Sportsmen anticipate but poor shooting this year owing to the fact that ninety out of every 100 partridge and prairie chicken nests were drowned out by the floods. Many nests containing young birds destroyed by the water have been found. The early dry spring occasioned the birds to nest in low places, where the long grass was more luxuriant and afforded a better cover.

"Curtis and his tribe have gone to Fort Wayne. In the tribe are Mrs. Oman, Wm. King and family. Curtis will have two sisters in Fort Wayne now. At last Curtis was convinced that there were some people in this place who were in earnest and were not merely talking of tarring and feathering him. There are a few people in this county who believe there never would have been a separation in the Oman family had it not been for Curtis, the libertine. It is a trifle strange that such men are not liable under the law," says the Columbia City Post.

Fair Play, Gentlemen!

Messrs. Sullivan, Harper & Co., who are working up a re-union here, want the Fair association to change its dates so that they can hold a gathering of soldiers here in August, the time of the fair. This is very kind, but impossible. The fair association people have money involved in rents and property. The re-union people have none. The fair is now in three big circuits with Columbus, Toledo and St. Louis, the fair dates here are fixed by the circuit of fair associations and the Fort Wayne association could not change them if they wanted to. The promoters of the fair are asking but justice. They do not want their business, which is necessarily risky and never has been very profitable, purposely injured, and hope that all merchants and citizens will look at the matter honorably and do the right thing, as the fair association has always done by its patrons. THE SENTINEL wants all public projects to succeed, but it cannot reasonably see why they should be arranged to kill each other or be in conflict, especially this year, when the fair will have all the attractions that Columbus, Toledo and St. Louis can boast of.

(Daily News.)

Comment is made upon the fact that two articles, identically the same in wording, appeared in both THE SENTINEL and the News last evening on the subject of the reunion. The matter is very easily explained. The article was handed in for publication at this office, and it expressed the sentiments of the News so thoroughly that we adopted them as our own. We suppose THE SENTINEL did likewise. We could never understand what motive could prompt the gentlemen who are instrumental in getting up these reunions, to fix their date invariably two or three weeks in advance of the Fair association. To talk about the agricultural society changing its date is sheer nonsense. The date of the fair has been fixed for two months, and is contingent upon the dates of all the other societies in the circuit, all of which have been decided upon and publicly announced. The cheek of the individual who suggests that the agricultural society should now give way to an association that is yet in embryo and has no date announced, is as sublime as it is impudent. The News does not question the fact that a soldiers' reunion and sham battle is a good means of drawing a crowd to our city, but we can never be made to believe that it is necessary or decent for that event to be so timed as to interfere with the exhibition of the agricultural society, which is given at about the same time every year.

A Decision of Interest To People Who Pay Tax.

The attorney general of the state has given his opinion as to what may be deducted from assessments for taxation of which the following is the gist: "In all cases where deductions are claimed from credits, the assessor shall require that such deductions be verified by the oath of the person, officer or agent claiming the same. Indebtedness may be deducted from credits only, and can not be deducted from the amount of any bonds, stocks, money loaned or money at interest. Bonds, stocks, money loaned or money at interest are not credits within the meaning of the statute, from which deductions of indebtedness may be made."

WHEN YOU GET IT

lay it at once upon that Smyrna rug you have just bought "on payments" of a peddler now in the city. Measure first the width then the length, and in the light of the figures given below, see how you have "fooled yourself."

OUR PRICES.

We give below the prices of each size of Bromley's Smyrna Rugs, which are the best goods made. We have cheaper goods at lower prices.

18 inches wide, 45 inches long; price, $1.50.

21 inches wide, 56 inches long; price, $2.50.

26 inches wide, 60 inches long; price, $3.75.

30 inches wide, 70 inches long; price, $4.40.

36 inches wide, 80 inches long; price, $6.25.

6 feet wide and 9 feet long; price, $20.

We know of parties having paid this peddler $13 for the Rug we sell at $6.25. We know of others who have paid $8 to $9 for the one we sell for $4.40.

And all this they do because they buy these Rugs on "payments."

They only pay 150 per cent. interest! If any one of these persons should come into our store and want our $4.40 Rug on "payments" and we should ask him on that account to pay $4.75 for it, they would get mad and refuse to buy it; but they pay peddlers $8 or $9 and it is all right.

It is a conundrum.

THE SCHOONER ADAMS.

What She Looks Like and Where She was Forfeited.

The state of Maine is in arms. From Skowhegan to Lake Umbagog and back again her citizens raise the battle cry. Mattawamkeag hears the sound, and shoves it along her troubled waters till it falls into the bosom of Chiquassabamtook. Meddybemps and Millinocket lurch their waves into fury, and hurl the story of the outrage across the hills to Squawpan, thence to Allagash. Sweet Canquogomog refuses to smile responsive to the wailing June air, while merry Moostowmaguncie looks as though she had set up in the outrage business permanently on her own hook.

It is on account of the seizure of the fishing schooner in the Bay of Fundy. The most expatriating point about this is that nobody can tell exactly whether it is an outrage or not. When we know we are outraged we have a right to bring our wrath upon, and it is a real comfort, but when we are not quite certain whether we have outraged or not, we have a right to feel indignant.

The fishing schooner David J. Adams and Ella Doughty have been seized by the Canadian government for buying bait in the Bay of Fundy. On what ground? There is a treaty of 1818, which the Kanucks claim in Yankee faces as their authority. But it is so old that nobody knows much of anything about it. It is so old that Hannibal Hamlin's dress suit was new at the time it was made, and there was yet one fresh negro minstrel joke. So you see it was a long time ago.

By the provisions of that treaty United States fishermen were bound, then and forever, not to fish in British American waters or within three marine miles of the shore of any bay, coast, creek or harbor. They were not to "take, dry or cure" any fish there or on. They were not even to put in any of the British dominion ports, except for shelter, repair or obtaining wood and water. This seemed stiff enough and plain enough.

SEIZURE OF THE DAVID J. ADAMS.

But it was not. There is the Bay of Fundy. I shoot off and up into British soil just at the point where the state of Maine separates off from New Brunswick. Apparently Fundy does this on purpose to make trouble between England and the United States.

The Bay of Fundy is 50 miles wide and 100 miles long. Get down your old dog-eared and broken-backed school atlas and trace out to a Bay of Fundy with your finger and spectacles. Then you will understand what Skowhegan and the town of Gloucester, Mass., are going to break the tail of the Canadian lion cub about. Americans claim that they have a right to sail all the way up the Bay of Fundy to the head and fish as they please, anywhere outside of three miles of the coast of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. It is the words "on or within three miles of," contained in the treaty that makes the trouble. United States fishermen declare that Fundy, being so large, is in the sense of the treaty no bay at all, but the same as the high seas. Canadians, on the other hand, declare that a bay is a bay, whether it is 7 by 9 feet or 150 by 50 miles in size.

Digby, where the Adams was seized, is a fishing hamlet on the Nova Scotia side of the Bay. The Adams was charged with buying bait in Digby harbor contrary to law, therefore was seized and ordered to be confiscated and sold to the highest bidder. The high and mighty Sheriff Van Blansom, of Nova Scotia, boarded the schooner with the main mission of the law, and said she shouldn't go out of that harbor where she wanted to. To clinch it, he went his own self and backed a little piece of paper, with four nails and a hammer, to her mast. The paper was put up folded and wrong side out, but it was said to say that Capt. Kinney, of the schooner, had violated the convention of 1818, known as chapter 38 of the laws passed in the fifty-ninth year of the reign of George III, as if it wasn't enough of an indignity to a Yankee to be arrested by a Kanuck, he must be arrested under a law passed in old George the Third's time.

DIGBY.

Digby is not much of a place, as you see. It looks as if the whole town couldn't scrape together fishing worms enough to bait a pin hook for a hellbender. Nevertheless, herding in vast shoals come along there and are caught for bait. It is only fair to the herding, however, to say that they are very young when they take in Digby, or they would know better than to be caught in such a place. Further, it is only fair to Skipper Kinney, of the Adams, to say that he declares he'll be overhauled and blown and blanketed if he took so much as a solitary minnow from Digby.

The Canadians catch the bait and sell it for $2 a barrel to the Yankee fishermen. They are eager enough to part with it at that figure, and there is plenty of it. They keep it on hand constantly to be disposed of in this very way. Now, why don't the Dominion government punish its own Kanucks for selling the bait, and not us honest Yankees who buy it?

Numbers among the fishing population of New England above they will be ruined if the privilege of buying Canadian bait is taken from them. Newspapers all over this country have been howling it into their readers' ears for the last five years that the Canadian fisheries are not worth a brass pin to us. Now they sing suddenly another song.

There have been bad feeling and foolish gabbling on both sides. The talk of war is nonsense. The "two great English speaking peoples" are nearer together in blood and in interest than any other two nations. They must settle this little matter amicably and in a way that will be a credit to both.

"PLINN" WHITE, THE SWINDLER.

Death of the Most Daring Rascal of Our Time.

The news of the death of Plymouth White will bring a feeling of relief to many men who have had business dealings with him, for the reason that "Plinn" had the happy faculty of revisiting a victim with the result of revictimizing them. Some there are who think that this is one of his latest schemes to have his death reported, that he may appear in the flesh to the unwary. If that were the case the publication of his portrait would defeat his game to some extent. Our portrait is made through the courtesy of a detective, from the one in the celebrated collection of the rogues' gallery, New York. It was placed there scarcely a twelvemonth ago, when he was last in the custody of the police.

PLYMOUTH WHITE.

Plinn White was a Vermont boy, whose teacher professed his enmity as a thief. In the last twenty-two years he succeeded in fleecing business men, gullible strangers and confiding women out of $1,500,000. At least this was the total of his voleries, made known through the ineffective suits brought against him. The full amount of his swindling operations can never be known, as his victims were often ashamed to acknowledge their losses through dealings with him.

He first achieved a national reputation in 1849, 1850 and 1851, when he netted $100,000 in California gold dust swindles, and escaped to Europe. Between 1851 and 1855 he was arrested four times in New York city, and once, while in jail there, swindled the sheriff out of $20,000. Subsequently, he opened a mammoth dry goods store in Kansas City, Mo., and obtained from eastern dealers goods valued at $275,000, after selling which he disappeared.

A list of his operations would fill a book. They covered the whole country, and every line of business, from poultry raising in Texas to dealing in diamonds in New York. His offenses were mainly such as to render him liable only to civil suits, and as he squandered money as fast as he obtained it the prosecutor rarely got any satisfaction. He crossed the ocean some sixteen times to escape arrest. He was a splendid conversationalist, and had a frank, open way of talking of his affairs which was wonderfully effective in winning the confidence of those upon whom he operated. It never could be discovered that he drank a drop, gambled, or in fact had any bad habits whatever. He had a way of following up his victims, instead of avoiding them. One instance will illustrate this. Thirty-five years ago Maj. Hall, of New York, advanced $30,000 in checks on White's promise not to have them cashed, but to use them as collateral. The checks were immediately cashed, and although Maj. Hall sought redress in the courts, White's conduct was not liable to the law. White disappeared. After an absence of thirty years White came back to New York in June, 1881. He once called upon Maj. Hall at his house, told him he had made an immense fortune, was repentant, and came home on purpose to pay back the $30,000. Maj. Hall was then 70 years old, and he was so touched by the eloquence of the prodigal sharper that he wept for joy. After paying several visits, White asked Maj. Hall for $1,300 with which to liquidate a pressing debt, saying that his capital was so bound up temporarily that he could not lay hold of any money. Mrs. Hall had made $1,000 the previous winter keeping a boarding house, and that sum, with $300 more that he borrowed from a customer, was promptly handed over, with the usual result. White would have made a success of any honorable occupation he might have engaged in, but he was absolutely without any moral susceptibilities, and became unquestionably one of the most polished villains on record.

The state superintendent has made the semi-annual apportionment of school revenue for tuition. The total amount of revenue received from the counties is $921,926.47; the amount on hand in the state treasury, including the state's interest on non-negotiable bonds, is $136,954.77, which makes a total for apportionment of $1,058,882.24. The spring enumeration shows 645,016 persons of school age in the state. The per capita of appropriation is, therefore, $1.41.

The Millers' Protective association of northern Indiana, at its meeting in North Manchester, elected the following directors for the ensuing year: D. Thompson, Walworth; Daniel Strons, North Manchester; E. B. Wolf, Colliamer; C. W. Tuttle, Columbia City; E. G. Thomas, Huntington. Applications for membership are coming in from all portions of this section of the state. Another meeting will be held in North Manchester on June 22.

Mary Allen, John Achiboh and Mariano Achiboh have been granted a change of venue from the Wells to the Allen circuit court.

GLADSTONE

Will Modify the Clause in the
Bill Excluding Irish
Representatives.

LONDON, May 27.—At the general liberal meeting called by Gladstone at the foreign office this afternoon, Gladstone announced that the government had decided to modify the clause of the home rule bill excluding Irish representatives from Westminster, provided the bill passed its second reading and was referred to a select committee for action during the autumn session of parliament. The meeting cordially approved the position taken by Gladstone.

The liberal dissidents who did not care to attend Gladstone's meeting, have hailed with undisguised satisfaction the attitude of apparent conciliation adopted by the premier. They now openly proclaim their intention to return to their party allegiance and vote with the government for a second reading. The general opinion this afternoon is that the home rule bill will now certainly pass a second reading.

ECHOES OF NEW YORK.

Something About the Authors'
Club and Its Members.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Authors' club, the sole organization of the kind in America, is, contrary to general expectation, quite flourishing. It began in November, 1882, with fifty members, and now has nearly 150, which is fixed as its limit. The chief difficulty of such an association is to make it self-sustaining and at the same time to keep its financial burdens light enough for the inky tribe, naturally possessed of small means, to bear them without discomfort. At the outset, the initiation fee was $15, the annual dues were $10. These were found insufficient, and they have respectively been increased to $25 and $15, which seem to answer the purpose. The club has a floor in a house in Twenty-fourth street, west of Fifth avenue, where it holds fortnightly meetings—they are mainly for social communion—every other Thursday night. A plan collation is served, with punch, tobacco and pipes, and over these, with plenty of conversation, reminiscence and anecdote, the members pass the evenings very pleasantly.

The title of the club, which may appear somewhat pretentious, was chosen as to distinguish between journalists simply, and men who are literary. One of its articles of the constitution reads: "No person shall be eligible to membership who is not the author of a published work proper to literature, or who has not a recognized position in other kind of a distinctively literary work." Although the members are more or less connected with new papers, not one of them is exclusively a writer for the press. Nearly every man of literary reputation in the city belongs to the club and many authors in other parts of the country. Among the best known names are those of Henry James, William D. Howells, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, Samuel L. Clemens, George William Curtis, Edward Eggleston, Purke Godwin, H. Watson Glaser, Julian Hawthorne, Bronson Howard, George Parsons Latrop, Edmund Clarence Stedman, Richard Henry Stoddard, Charles Dudley Warner and Edward L. Youmans. The only three honorary members are Matthew Arnold, James Russell Lowell and John G. Whittier. The club has neither president nor vice-president. Its government is vested in an executive council of nine members, who elect from their own number a secretary and treasurer, and also appoint the committee on membership. Candidates are considered in regard to their character as well as to their professional eligibility. Naturally there has been much discussion and considerable disagreement about various literatures whose names have been put up, and not a few have been rejected on personal grounds alone. Still, the club has, on the whole, been harmonious, far more so than would have been anticipated, when the sensitiveness, prejudice and self-love of writers are taken into account.

Many of the members are young men who have lately blossomed into reputation, like T. A. Janvier (Ivory Black), Frederick J. Stempson, George Edgar Montgomery, Brander Matthews, W. Hamilton Gibson, Harry Harland (Silvery Lullaby), Arlo Bates and others. There are veterans, too, almost forgotten, like William E. Mayo, in his 74th year, John "Kalobah," and "The Barber," romances of adventure, were widely read and admired thirty or forty years ago. Thomas Dunn English is also a member. Little has been heard of him lately, but he was quite prominent in the first half of the century. He is the author of a once popular ballad, "Ben Bolt," and of a novel, "The Lullaby," which was in the volume of "The Liberator," where he spoke of him as Thomas Dunn Brown. He is now near 67, but bustling and brimming with himself.

Monroe D. Conway, now permanently settled here, after more than twenty years' residence in England, and in the United States, notably in this city, exceedingly high. While he admits that a man can earn more here than there, he still thinks the difference wholly in favor of London. He holds that one can live there "for less than two-thirds of what it costs here. Consequently, it is a better place of residence for a writer whose manuscripts are in demand. Americans who are temporarily in London find it very dear; but permanent residents get on with far more economy. New York is undeniably the most expensive of capitals on either side of the sea.

Albert M. Palmer, of the Madison Square, is one of the very few managers who make no contract with players. He says that it is useless, for they hardly ever keep their part of the contract, while they invariably hold the manager most rigorously to his part. He simply tells them what he will do, and they accept without reluctance his word as a man of integrity and means. This plan saves him a deal of vexation and trouble, and indeed, works well all around.

It is now very doubtful, I understand, whether Edwin Booth will attempt to fulfill his contract next season with Lawrence Barrett. He has been so weak and ill this season that he does not think he can possibly gain sufficient strength and health between this and the coming autumn to perform so long an engagement as 80 nights, as is called for. His friends have urged him against the endeavor, which will certainly end in breaking him completely down before its termination. His recent acquaintance with Salvini has shown conclusively that he needs a very long rest. It is not unlikely that he may retire permanently from the stage.

At a recent reception up town three gentlemen were present who, many years ago, were the Columbus, O., correspondents of The Cincinnati Gazette, and they had succeeded one another in that capacity. They were William D. Howells, William Henry Smith, agent of the Associated Press, and Whitehead Reid, who are near the same age, about 60, and who have ever since that time been close friends. Howells is at present earning more money with his pen than any American writer. From all sources he has an income of from $18,000 to $20,000, which is fully four times what the clerical of our situation can usually command. How long this will continue no one can say. He has enjoyed this exceptional fortune only a few months.

Several Inches of Snow in Vermont—The Maxwell
Trial To-day.

SETTLED AT LAST.

President Cleveland to Be Married at Folsomdale.

BUFFALO, May 27.—The Times to-day prints a statement to the effect that Mr. Wilson Bissell says he has arranged for special train to bring Mr. Cleveland to Buffalo, to be married, but that the wedding ceremony will take place at Folsomdale, which is one of the most isolated spots in Western New York.

MAXWELL

Is Again on the Witness Stand
To-day.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 27.—Mr. Foundleroy continued his direct examination of Maxwell. The witness admitted having met McCullough, but never made any arrangements with him about the manner in which the defense should be conducted. His whole statement, said the witness, was an infirmities lie from beginning to end. "I never saw a letter signed 'Mann,' which he says he wrote to me, until it was produced in court. I never tried to secure false witness nor manufacture a bogus defense.

Yesterday the prisoner testified Preller died from a dose of chloroform he administered to make less painful a surgical operation he was to perform on Preller.

A Big Snow Fall in Vermont.
BRUNSWICK, Vt., May 27.—Snow to the depth of several inches is reported in various towns in northern Vermont, and fears are entertained of severe damage to crops by the frost.

House Proceedings To-day.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In the house Mr. Dingley, from the committee on conference, submitted a report from the joint committee on the shipping bill. Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, thought that the consideration should be postponed until the members had an opportunity to examine the provisions carefully. The question involved in the Frye amendment was broader than at first blush it might appear to be. It not only conferred the privilege, but imposed the duty upon the president to withdraw from foreign vessels certain commercial privileges when those privileges had been denied to American vessels in the country to which such foreign vessels belonged. The supposed need for the provision rose out of the recent troubles with Canada. There was no danger of war and the executive has under consideration a settlement of the Canadian fishery trouble. The objection to the provision was that it enabled the president to place an embargo upon Canadian vessels.

In the committee of the whole on the oleomargarine bill, voted down the amendment reducing the special tax imposed on manufacturers of oleomargarine from $500 to $800 by a vote of 44 to 119.

A FAIR TRIAL IN TERRE HAUTE.

The nineteenth century is said to be the age of skepticism, and so perhaps it is as regards religion, but its practical spirit inclines it to look favorably on everything that promises immediate benefit and it is always ready to give everything that seems useful a fair trial. The West especially has ever been open and cordial to all new ideas, and this may partly explain why Athlaphora, the sovereign remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia, has secured such a strong footing in Terre Haute. A well-known citizen who has the most implicit faith in it is Mr. R. Forster, the furniture dealer at No. 329 Main street. Mr. Forster, when recently asked at his warehouse as to the benefit he had derived from Athlaphora, answered as follows:

"Yes, I have used Athlaphora with the very best satisfaction. I have had neuralgia for many years, and could not find any medicine that would give me relief until I commenced using Athlaphora, and I can tell you I had used about everything."

"How did you first get confidence enough in Athlaphora to try it?"

"Well, it was just in this way. I was suffering very much at the time from my neuralgia. One Saturday evening Mr. Mallette, a manufacturer of wire nut-tresses, who is in business in Chicago, and lives at Elgin, Ill., came down to spend Sunday with me. Finding me suffering as I was he said:

"Get some Athlaphora. It is good, my wife used it and was cured of her neuralgia by it."

"Without waiting for me to say much about it he went out and bought a bottle of the medicine. I took some that night and the next day I was as free from pain as if I had never had neuralgia. I spent several hours in a walk that Sunday with Mr. Mallette, which the day before would have been misery for me. During the summer months I am never troubled with neuralgia, but if I should be again I would certainly use Athlaphora, for I am fully convinced of its merits."

"I have recommended Athlaphora to several persons and have yet to learn of an instance where it did not accomplish its mission. Among others I recommended it to Mrs. Richards, who lives in Casey, Ill. I saw her in the city a few days ago and asked her if she had used it. She said that she had taken two bottles. It was helping her, and she said that she was going to get some more."

Mrs. C. A. Armstrong, of No. 123 South Second street, is another resident of Terre Haute, Ind., whom Athlaphora has cured. "I used it for neuralgia," she says, "and it cured me. I had been troubled for about three years with what seemed at times neuralgia, and then again rheumatism. The very first dose of Athlaphora I took gave me relief, and after using only two bottles my soreness is all gone and I am feeling much stronger. My daughter was also cured of neuralgia by it."

"Yes, I can say Athlaphora did everything for me," is the daughter's statement. "I was so sick with neuralgia that I could not sit up and suffered the greatest pain. Mother sent me a half bottle of Athlaphora, the first few doses of which gave me relief. All I used was the half bottle and I have not had any neuralgia since."

If you cannot get Athlaphora of your druggist, we will send it express free of cost, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he cannot or will not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from the American Athlaphora Co., 312 Wall Street, New York.

For fifteen years, they have steadily gained in favor, and with sales constantly increasing have become the most popular corset throughout the United States. The G. quality is guaranteed to wear twice as long as ordinary Corsets. We have lately introduced the G and H. G. grades with Extra Long Waists, and we can furnish them when preferred. Highest awards from all the World's Great Fairs. The latest medal received for First Degree of Merit, from the late Exposition held at New Orleans. While scores of patents have been found worthless, the principles of the Glove-Fitting have proved invaluable. No alterations are needed to refund money. In our examination, these Corsets do not prove a disappointment. For sale everywhere. Catalogue free on application.

33,000 ACRES MINNEOTA

Lands are to be sold at Public Auction. The "Prairie of the Estate of Jay Cooke & Co. in Bankruptcy" will offer for sale the highest bidder 33,000 acres of valuable land yet remaining. The real estate must be disposed of immediately so as to settle with creditors. Such an opportunity is rarely offered for such a large and valuable tract. Sale takes place at the Chicago Real Estate House, Room 5, 111 LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, May 20, at 12 noon. Each tract sold subject to the same conditions as the "Three Sides" tract, and the same "Capone" cut in the center, at 14

There Are a Few Druggists

who are more than willing to make a large profit on a worthless article than to wait for the prospect that ultimately results from honest dealing. These are the men who when asked for a Remedy's Capone Plaster, will recommend some cheap and trashy substitute, and then say, "It is just as good." Sometimes they will do up and sell the miserable imitation without remark, allowing the customer to suppose he has been deceived. If the worthless plaster is removed, the patient will find the same result. If not, he will find a good stock of imitations. The public are cautioned against John and all his ilk. Buy of respectable druggists only. The genuine Remedy's Capone Plaster is the "Three Sides" trade mark and the word "Capone" cut in the center, at 14

REPORT OF CITY CIVIL ENGINEER.
In the matter of the petition of Christian Grafmiller, surviving partner of McKee & Grafmiller, asking an additional estimate for the construction of a sidewalk on the north side of Lewis street, which was referred to the city engineer and city civil engineer at the last meeting of the council, would respectfully ask to be relieved from any further report on said sidewalk, as the final estimate is submitted and all that I have to report in the matter is that if any question in the cause it is a legal one, therefore I would recommend that the petition be referred to the committee on Judiciary.

J. C. GOSHORN,
City Civil Engineer.

REPORT OF CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.
I hereby respectfully report that I have appointed John McGowan and Fred Becker assistant engineers of the fire department and ask your honorable body to confirm my appointment.

is large from the wall; the north end is filled with old beams formerly used by the gas company and presents a very ghastly and unwholesome sight; the southeast corner pillar is rotten at the bottom and must be replaced; the floor is repaired, the old door replaced by a new one, the frame fastened to the wall, a board partition built across the rear end, and the house is now ready for occupancy. New benches made where needed to accommodate renters of stalls.

THE KENTUCKY DERBY.
PEN AND PENCIL PICTURES OF THE FAMOUS LOUISVILLE RACES.

Uncle Simon Cameron Packs His Little Valise and Trips Off to See the Horse Race—Then All's Great Run—Half a Length Ahead.

At the annual fair at Lexington, Paris and Cincinnati, in the blue grass region, Kentucky is in her glory. But most of all is Derby day, at Louisville, the great occasion for the assembling of fair women and strapping big men. At the recent meeting there were not less than 30,000 persons, white, black and yellow, present to witness the chief race.

The Derby races were instituted eleven years ago, by Col. M. Lewis Clark, president of the Louisville Jockey club, whose good-looking portrait appears herewith.

Col. Clark is very rigid in his rulings on the turf, and very delightful socially. The day before the great race began, this spring, sixteen pool sellers were arrested for playing their trade contrary to the Kentucky law, which prohibits pool selling outside of a race course.

This fact is approvingly quoted by the papers thereabouts to show that "the Louisville race track is fenced and avoided by the scoundrels of the turf, and is consequently free from the trickery and jobbery that have brought the thoroughbred horse too often into disgrace in America of late years."

The Louisville Derby is run at Churchill Downs, a field a little outside of the city. It is a beautiful race course, fringed and lined with that famous blue grass which Atlantic coast race track owners might well give half an eye to possess.

DISTINGUISHED SPECTATORS.

The special president's car of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad conveyed this year some very distinguished visitors to Louisville. Among them was that jolly old boy, Gen. Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania. You see him on the right of the picture of "distinguished judges." On the left is Mr. Leonard Jerome, of New York. These two gentlemen were among the judges of the Derby.

Mr. Cameron is well past 80 years old, but he shows that he is still young by the lively interest he takes in a horse race. He says he is too old for politics, but he is plainly not too old to pack his little carpet bag and flip himself off to a race 1,000 miles away. Owning a large fortune, carrying the state in his pocket politically, so that when Simon says wig-wag all Pennsylvania wig-wags, having made his final peace with the Widow Oliver, and presumably that for the next world, Mr. Cameron has a right to amuse himself. He has earned it. Happy old boy!

When the newspapers speak of Mr. Leonard Jerome they always add, "father-in-law of Lord Randolph Churchill." This is a toadyism that is insufferably disgusting. If it is any distinction to be the father-in-law of the most notorious Tory in England, a man that married for his money a silly girl who looks down on her own family, who loses no chance to fling contempt upon her native land, and who declares with a sniff and a sneer that she "married out of her belief in republics" and the equality of mankind, old Mr. Jerome has that distinction. But really, come to think, he is probably not to blame because his daughter is a fool.

Well, with these two famous gentlemen looking on, the horse Ben Ali won the race.

"NEARLY THE STRING."

It was a mile and a half course and a running race, with a dozen steeds fighting for the blue ribbon. Ben Ali's owner is Mr. J. H. Haggins, a Californian. Because he was a millionaire, he won $25,000 on this race. "That man has guts, the Bible says," remarked a devout old lady. "All Kentucky is dead broke," mournfully writes a Louisville reporter.

It was a race of 3-year-olds, and one of the best ever run on the American turf. The mile and a half was made by Ben Ali in 2:30 1/4. This was half a second better than the time made in 1879, which has stood as the record ever since. Thus the record for 3-year-olds has been lowered half a second. Ben Ali only won by the skin of his teeth. Blue Wing, another famous colt, was only half a length behind.

Yet Kentucky has one big consolation. She was beaten with her own weapons. Ben Ali is a Kentucky born and bred horse. He first opened his high-priced eyes on a farm near Lexington, Ky., and gambled on the blue grass there till he was a year old. One of the turfmen bought him for $3,800, and they have been gambling over him ever since. The blue grass forever. Probably his owner would scarcely now take that many thousands for him. Comparatively few men earn so much money working at day's work in a lifetime.

Ben Ali is a brown colt, and no great beauty to look at.

The Episcopal Archbishop of New York.
The recent pastoral letter of Bishop Potter, of New York, on the labor troubles, has attracted universal attention. New York is justly proud of Bishop Potter. He is just 51 years of age, was ordained a priest at the age of 23, and was consecrated bishop in 1883. He was formerly rector of Grace church. Of his letter, The New York Sun says:

BISHOP HENRY C. POTTER.

It is Dr. Potter's firm conviction and deliberate affirmance that society must be reorganized until it reflects the lessons of the Sermon on the Mount far more faithfully than now. He recognizes and declares that this cannot be done by amassing. He tells the representatives of organized capital that the fundamental doctrines of their political economy have been tested by the touchstone of Christ's teachings and found wanting, and that their vaunted principle of supply and demand must be radically modified before its relentless gyres are immovably fastened upon the lives and hopes of men.

But for the fundamental change in the relations of employers and employed, which he pronounces indispensable to the safety of the state, Dr. Potter would recall the pulpit to its duty and all public leaders to their mission; he would set in motion every influence by which opinion can be leavened through and through with that spirit of all-penetrating benignity and brotherhood which ought to animate every honest follower of Christ. With public opinion thus inspired, no revolution would be needed to bring about a welcome change in the direction of equality in agrarian, economical and social conditions. Legislation would speedily obey the impulse of sympathy and kindness.

In the Dear Old Days.

We differ in creed and politics, but we are a unit all the same on the hesitations of a fine head of hair. If you mourn the loss of this blessing and ornament, a bottle or two of Parker's Hair Balm will make you look as you did in the dear old days. It is worth trying. It is the only standard 50-cent article for the hair.

Charley Payton, aged about fourteen, and a son of Engineer Payton, of the Ohio and Mississippi railway, was drowned yesterday afternoon in Kelson creek, near Vincennes, while bathing.

When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

John Friend and Miss Ida Bruner eloped from Charlestown Landing, Clark county, in a skiff, and were married at Jeffersonville. The bride seemed anxious that the account of the affair be published, as she would like to have her parents see it and be astonished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE Cod Liver Oil, With Hypophosphates.
Is more reliable as an agent in the cure of consumption, chronic coughs and emaciation, than any remedy known to medical science. It is so prepared that the potency of these two most valuable specialties is largely increased. It is also very palatable.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jan. 19-codaily.

I think Fly's Cream Balm is the best remedy for earache I ever saw. I never took anything that relieved me so quickly. I have not felt so well for a long time. I used to be troubled with severe headaches two or three times a week, but since using the balm have only had one and that was very light compared with the former ones.—A. J. Alcorn, agent U. P. Ry Co., Eaton, Co.

I had Fly's Cream Balm good for earache of long standing.—M. N. Linsley, 384 West Chestnut St., Louisville.

REV. H. B. ERRELL, of Pavilion, N. Y., says of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine: "I believe it to be a most desirable remedy to be placed in every family."

WILLIS L. CULVER, of Pavilion, N. Y., says that Gilmore's Magnolia Elixir cured him of a long-standing throat and lung trouble.

LADIES. Use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for nervousness and sleeplessness. CONFINE TO THE BED FOUR MONTHS, and almost blind, and cured by one box of Gilmore's Neuralgia cure. WHAT WILL CURE THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES? Gilmore's Magnolia Elixir.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOME.

The Pleasant Cottage Reserved for Him at the Soldiers' Home.

A few miles from Washington, in the northern part of the District of Columbia, is the cottage shown in our illustration. It is located within the grounds attached to the Soldiers' Home, and is reserved as a summer home for the presidents. It is a delightful retreat, and has been occupied during the summer time by Presidents Pierce, Buchanan and Lincoln. Presidents Hayes and Arthur also spent a portion of the warm weather there. The house is beautifully situated.

SUMMER RESIDENCE OF THE PRESIDENTS.

This estate is open to the public and is a favorite place of resort in the summer season. For this reason it is said that President Cleveland will, when married, take his bride to a home of his own, where he can obtain the privacy and rest that would scarcely be possible at the Soldiers' Home.

The president has visited many of the fine estates on the outskirts of Washington with the view of purchasing one, and rumor has it that he has secured the refusal of one house until his bride-elect can be consulted. Through the death of Col. John B. Folsom, Miss Folsom, his pet grandchild, inherits a considerable fortune, and it is expected that her home in Washington will be a handsome one.

TAKE—SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1838. It acts gently on the Liver and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whenever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unaided by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but it is not intoxicating; it never leads to insensibility; it promotes digestion, dissipates headache, and generally tones up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

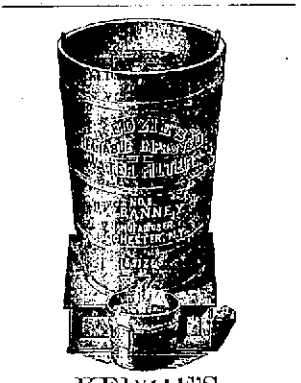

No loss of time, an interruption or stopping of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1886.

THE CITY.

Dr. C. B. Stemen has returned from Chicago.

Julius Nathan went to Toledo this morning.

Mr. I. Alringer has opened his grocery at Antwerp.

Most of the Chicago excursionists returned home to-day.

Professor Bristol's horse show is great and continues all week.

Mrs. Chas. Buck returned last night from a visit at Plymouth, Ind.

Tra. Sarah Smith, of South Toledo, Ohio, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Buck.

The weather indications for Indiana are generally fair weather, satisfactory temperature.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kelly are now in their pleasant home at No. 181 East Jefferson street.

An emigrant train of eight cars passed through the city this morning on the Pittsburg road.

Harry Rogers, an engineer on the Pittsburg road, is the happy father of a bouncing boy baby.

Andy Kalbacher's father, who had his hip bone broken some days ago, is rapidly improving.

Dr. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. John Ross took their brother, Clifton Ross, of Lebanon, Ohio, to Rome City.

Alex Martin, the grocer, has a telegram saying his father and mother are seeing the sights of Paris.

The pupils of the Sisters' and Brothers' schools will give closing exhibitions at the Catholic Library hall.

Mr. W. H. H. Miller, a prominent Indianapolis attorney, who used to live here, is a guest of the Aveline house.

One thousand three hundred and eighty-six water permits have been issued till date by the water works office.

Mr. Will Kyle is celebrating the anniversary of his birth to-day, and one of the most agreeable remembrances is a fragrant basket of flowers.

LuOtto correspondent says "Miss Ella Licoli, of Fort Wayne, was in this vicinity three or four days last week, visiting her cousin, Miss Annie Sowers."

"Mr. Frank Falker, a popular knight of the egrig, was in the city yesterday. Frank is an ex-city marshal of Fort Wayne and quite a politician in that city," says the Lafayette Journal.

Walter J. Mitchell and Louise Guttermuth, Jacob Giant and Mary E. Girardot, Reinhold Sutterlin and Margaretta Steiger, Willard F. Parker and Florence C. Cook, have been licensed to wed.

The excursion of the Order of Locomotive Firemen to Warsaw, was very well attended. They had five coaches and a baggage car loaded down with pleasure seekers and their lunch baskets.

The Fort Wayne Rifles had a very enjoyable time at Rome City yesterday. The target shooting developed remarkable marksmanship and pretty girls smiled their sweetest on the boys in uniform.

Warren Carpenter, the chief engineer at the water works pumping house, used to be a republican, but is now a democrat. Mr. Carpenter used to run an engine on the Wabash road and he is a brother-in-law of Mr. Christ Roeder.

Miss M. E. Pinkerton, who labors as a missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions among the Zulus of southeastern Africa, will give an account of her work at the Congregational church next Sabbath evening.

Mr. Jacob Giant and Miss Mary Girardot were married in the county clerk's office this morning. Tom Gorman and Joe Black did the honors. After the ceremony they kissed the willing lips of the bride and pressed the bridal roses as the groom grew pale with envy.

This has been a big jury week in the circuit court and Bailiff William Fahling has not had a night's rest since Monday. He can sleep against a court pillar and this morning took a nap while Harry Metzger poured one of his tales of conquests in love into William's ear, then dead to chivalric heroes.

Building permits have been granted to Chas. Hiller, to erect an addition to his frame house on lot 43, Hanna's addition, to cost $150; to Nelson Thompson, to build a wood shed on lot 11, Compare's addition, to cost $30, and to Ferdinand Lohaefer to build a frame addition to his house on lot 73, Rockhill's second addition, to cost $125.

It is said that there is a big scheme on foot by English capitalists and others in this country, by which a short line road between Chicago and New York will be constructed and that the road will be run in connection with a new line of steamers between Baltimore and Liverpool. The system is to be known as the Midland railway, and the capital stock to be $100,000,000. Fort Wayne is on the line of the road.

Mrs. Joseph J. Jenkinson is the guest of relatives at Goeben.
The city hall and offices are undergoing the annual renovation.
Hon. R. C. Bell is at Indianapolis and will return to-morrow evening.

Mr. Harry Bromley, general agent of the Lake Shore railroad, is in the city.
Mrs. Fred Meyers, of St. Joe township, is prostrated from a stroke of paralysis.

The republicans are selecting delegates. The task is like picking out pall bearers.

Professor Bristol's horse show continues to attract and amuse people at the Temple.

The superior court jury has been dismissed until June 2. Judge Hench held no court to-day.

THE SENTINEL and Gazette were the only papers to publish Mayor Muhler's address in full.

Miss Julia Ruggles, of Euclid, O., is visiting with her friend, Miss Lizzie Chapin, of Douglas avenue.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana excursion rates to the northern summer resorts will go into effect June 1.

Professor Kinsey, a former Fort Wayne musician, is to give a musical normal at Columbia City, July 13.

W. A. Corey, a bright young man from Abolt township, has accepted a clerical position with S. F. Swayne.

Mr. George R. Wendling, the famous lecturer, will be engaged to come here and lecture in the interest of the Y. M. C. A.

"James Sheridan, one of Fort Wayne's 'finest' policemen, is in the city on his wedding tour," says the Lafayette Courier.

It is proposed to give Manager Wilkinson, of the Academy, a benefit and as he is a clever, genial gentleman it will be a pleasure to promote the movement.

Drs. W. H. and H. S. Meyers yesterday amputated, at the ankle joint, the right leg of Ed. Kanack, the tramp, who had his limb bruised by a Pittsburg train.

Quite a number of Fort Wayne people are arranging to attend the G. A. R. musical festival at Indianapolis the first week in June. The proceeds are to go towards erecting a state soldiers' monument.

The funeral of the late Wm. Chamberlain occurred this afternoon and was very largely attended. The casket was laden with tender floral tributes and the services were impressive under the auspices of the Odd Fellows.

Col. D. N. Foster, of this city, is nominated for national commander of the United States by the National Union Republican. Mr. Foster could fill the place with honor to himself and the soldiers of the nation and THE SENTINEL is pleased to say so.

The Catholic Knights will not participate in the public parade on Decoration Day. Their name was used without their knowledge or consent. The Knights will celebrate the day becomingly, but will not participate in its public observance.

Albert Dawson, of Fort Wayne, is at Huntington on business for the Nickel Plate company. He is engaged in preparing a map of the old Wabash and Erie canal and ascertaining who the property owners are whose land borders on its once wild and stormy waters.

Mr. C. S. Knight, manager of the Fort Wayne Gas company, is negotiating for the necessary paraphernalia and drills to bore for oil and gas in this city. Mr. Knight and his company propose to have natural gas if there is any in the earth, beneath Fort Wayne or the territory about it.

Thomas Bradberry, the brute who insulted his own daughter by his revolting acts, had a trial before Justice Ryan to-day. The little girl told the story of her father's inhumanity between sobs, and the judge bound the fellow over to the criminal court in the sum of $1,000. Of course the fellow went to jail.

Pat Duffly, an old Irishman who wears a perpetual black eye, was arraigned before the mayor for stealing chickens from Pete Olsner and Henry Schuckman. He is also a notorious flower thief, and his racket was to sell the posies at the Oliver house and saloons about town. Mayor Muhler bound him over to await grand jury action in the sum of $30.

A pleasant surprise was again in store for the large audience which again assembled at the Academy last night. A great deal had been said about "Little Nugget" in advance, and of course a great deal was expected, but they were not prepared for such a whirlwind of fun.

"Little Nugget" is one of the funniest shows that has ever been seen in Fort Wayne. It is superior to "A Tin Soldier" and other non-sensicalities of that order, and the people presenting it are especially good; particularly sprightly Josie Sisson as "Little Nugget," Oscar Sisson as "Billy Simpkins," Droll Herbert Cawthorn as "O'Brady," and Joe Cawthorn as "Jakay Kumpfer," the pugilistic Gorman. "Little Nugget" will continue the balance of the week with another matinee Saturday afternoon.

"Little Nugget" again to-night. Joe M. Gaston, of Paulding, Ohio, is in the city.

Cherries are now plentiful in the local fruit markets.

Christina Shumacher was divorced to-day from Adam Shumacher.

The county commissioners have adjourned until next Tuesday.

Miss Esther McKinnie and Mrs. Elsworth are visiting at Chicago.

If you are a property owner, read the council proceedings each day.

A large house witnessed "Little Nugget" at the Academy again last night.

Warsaw knows by this time what it is to have an excursion. The firemen had a pretty gay party.

The remains of August Heineck, a cigar maker for Mr. Christ Wenninghoff, were sent to Indianapolis for burial to-day.

Those who will contribute flowers for Decoration Day are requested to leave them at Zion S. Bass Grand Army hall on Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John McQuiston, of this city, and Mrs. W. H. McQuiston, of Auburn, went to Central Ohio, this morning for a three weeks' visit.

The Odd Fellows presented an imposing appearance at the funeral of the late Wm. Chamberlain to-day. The city band headed the funeral cortege.

Mr. J. W. Ryan, wife and son George, left yesterday noon for Buffalo, N. Y., via the Nickel Plate. Mr. Ryan will extend his visit for more than a week.

The Clay Club give their grand annual banquet to-morrow night. The demonstration will take place at the Grand Central Hotel, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"A. J. Markey has a half interest in a receipt for making a better ink than Arnold's. His brother-in-law, of Fort Wayne, is the discoverer," says the Albion Democrat.

"Mr. J. M. Barrett, of Fort Wayne, was one of the counsel in the Hatfield-Taylor suit here last Monday. His gentlemanly bearing before the jury made him many friends," says the Bluffton Banner.

The jury in the case of G. W. Seavey vs. Allen H. Dougal and others disagreed in the circuit court. Mr. Seavey sought to recover a debt contracted by the men who conducted the reunion in this city last fall.

The following docket was disposed of by Judge O'Rourke to-day: John McKee vs. Andrew J. Taylor, judgment to former for $6,419.47 on foreclosure. The case of Emma Davis vs. Jacob Fredrickson et al. is on trial.

Representative democrats from Huntington came here to-day to consult Chairman John Wilkinson about holding a joint convention to nominate a joint representative for Allen and Huntington counties. The delegates will be chosen when the state delegates are.

The statement that Prof. D. D. Luke, of Ligonier, is a candidate for superintendent of public instruction is without authority. The professor presided over the Auburn convention and has no such aspirations as a state office, at least Hon. John B. Stoll says so.

A poor man went to Baron Von Westrum's house this morning to strive to collect wages due him from the baron. He talked hard to Westrum for refusing to pay him and for this the laborer was arrested, fined for provoke and cast in jail because he could not pay the blood money. That sort of justice is rank mockery.

"Mr. Wm. Golden, who has been a citizen of this county, but now resides with his daughter, Mrs. Abram Keller, in Fort Wayne, was on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Martha Miller, and other relatives in the city. He returned to Fort Wayne last Saturday," says the Bluffton Banner.

"Bishop Joseph Rademacher, of Nashville, Tenn., was in the city yesterday and to-day, en route from Fort Wayne, where he had been to administer confirmation to a large class and also to lay the corner stone of a new Catholic church at that place. He is as happy looking as of yore and several years younger," says the Lafayette Courier.

Sportsmen anticipate but poor shooting this year owing to the fact that ninety out of every 100 partridge and prairie chicken nests were drowned out by the floods. Many nests containing young birds destroyed by the water have been found. The early dry spring occasioned the birds to nest in low places, where the long grass was more luxuriant and afforded a better cover.

"Ortis and his tribe have gone to Fort Wayne. In the tribe are Mrs. Oman, Wm. King and family. Ortis will have two sisters in Fort Wayne now. At last Ortis was convinced that there were some people in this place who were in earnest and were not merely talking of tarring and feathering him. There are a few people in this county who believe there never would have been a separation in the Oman family had it not been for Ortis, the libertine. It is a trifle strange that such men are not hable under the law," says the Columbia City Post.

Fair Play, Gentlemen!
Messrs. Sullivan, Harper & Co., who are working up a reunion here, want the Fair association to change its dates so that they can hold a gathering of soldiers here in August, the time of the fair. This is very kind, but impossible. The fair association people have money involved in rents and property. The reunion people have none. The fair is now in three big circuits with Columbus, Toledo and St. Louis, the fair dates here are fixed by the circuit of fair associations and the Fort Wayne association could not change them if they wanted to. The promoters of the fair are making but justice. They do not want their business, which is necessarily risky and never has been very profitable, purposely injured, and hope that all merchants and citizens will look at the matter honorably and do the right thing, as the fair association has always done by its patrons. THE SENTINEL wants all public projects to succeed, but it cannot reasonably see why they should be arranged to kill each other or be in conflict, especially this year, when the fair will have all the attractions that Columbus, Toledo and St. Louis can boast of.
(Daily News.)

Comment is made upon the fact that two articles, identically the same in wording, appeared in both THE SENTINEL and the News last evening on the subject of the reunion. The matter is very easily explained. The article was handed in for publication at this office, and it expressed the sentiments of the News so thoroughly that we adopted them as our own. We suppose THE SENTINEL did likewise. We could never understand what motive could prompt the gentlemen who are instrumental in getting up these reunions, to fix their date invariably two or three weeks in advance of the Fair association. To talk about the agricultural society changing its date is sheer nonsense. The date of the fair has been fixed for two months, and is contingent upon the dates of all the other societies in the circuit, all of which have been decided upon and publicly announced. The check of the individual who suggests that the agricultural society should now give way to an association that is yet in embryo and has no date announced, is as sublime as it is impudent. The News does not question the fact that a soldiers' reunion and sham battle is a good means of drawing a crowd to our city, but we can never be made to believe that it is necessary or decent for that event to be so timed as to interfere with the exhibition of the agricultural society, which is given at about the same time every year.

Scrofula diseases manifest themselves in the spring. Hood's Sarsaparilla cleanses the blood, and removes every taint of scrofula.

HOW IS THIS?
A Decision of Interest To People Who Pay Tax.
The attorney general of the state has given his opinion as to what may be deducted from assessments for taxation of which the following is the gist: "In all cases where deductions are claimed from credits, the assessor shall require that such deductions be verified by the oath of the person, officer or agent claiming the same. Indebtedness may be deducted from credits only, and can not be deducted from the amount of any bonds, stocks, money loaned or money at interest. Bonds, stocks, money loaned or money at interest are not credits within the meaning of the statute, from which deductions of indebtedness may be made."

WHEN YOU GET IT

lay it at once upon that Smyrna rug you have just bought "on payments" of a peddler now in the city. Measure first the width then the length, and in the light of the figures given below, see how you have "fooled yourself."

OUR PRICES.

We give below the prices of each size of Bromley's Smyrna Rugs, which are the best goods made. We have cheaper goods at lower prices.

18 inches wide, 45 inches long; price, $1.50.
21 inches wide, 56 inches long; price, $2.50.

26 inches wide, 60 inches long; price, $3.75.
30 inches wide, 70 inches long; price, $4.40.

36 inches wide, 80 inches long; price, $6.25.
6 feet wide and 9 feet long; price, $20.

We know of parties having paid this peddler $19 for the Rug we sell at $6.25. We know of others who have paid $3 to $8 for the one we sell for $4.40.

And all this they do because they buy these Rugs on "payments."
They only pay 150 per cent. interest! If any one of these persons should come into our store and want our $4.40 Rug on "payments" and we should ask him on that account to pay $4.75 for it, they would get mad and refuse to buy it; but they pay peddlers $8 or $9 and it is all right.

It is a conundrum.
